

FAQ for 2022 USBC Team USA Trials

1. Why is there a SafeSport requirement for any participant 18 or over?

As the National Governing Body (NGB) for the sport of bowling, and to improve athlete safety across the U.S. Olympic & Paralympic Committee's efforts (USOPC), requiring those 18 or over to complete SafeSport training improves the mission of creating awareness about emotional, physical and sexual abuse. It's all part of helping to protect everyone involved.

Note: Any competitor who will be 18 years of age or older as of the completion of the 2022 Team USA Trials will be required to be current with SafeSport training prior to registering for the event.

2. What does it mean to be current with SafeSport training?

To be current with SafeSport training, one needs to have completed either the initial Core SafeSport Training module or one of the Refresher courses since Jan. 8, 2021. Those who have taken a training class since then, can register for Team Trials.

Visit BOWL.com/RVP for information.

3. Why can't bowlers under 18 be part of Team USA anymore?

In compliance with USBC's and USOPC's initiatives for the Registered Volunteer Program (RVP) and SafeSport, only athletes 18 years or older (considered adults), should travel and be in competitions together. We feel with the strength of our teams, both youth (under 18) and adults, will have the talent and ability to compete globally.

Team USA Trials bowlers under 18 will be eligible for spots on Junior Team USA.

All participants at this year's event must be 16 years of age or older as of the first day of competition. This aligns with recent changes to the U15, U18 and U20 divisions for Junior Gold 2021. With those changes, all Developmental Team USA athletes were selected from the 2021 Junior Gold Championships.

This also is in line with SafeSport guidelines of keeping athletes of similar age groups in competition together.

We are only qualifying athletes for Junior Team USA and Team USA at the 2022 Team USA Trials.

4. Will spectators be allowed at the 2022 Team USA Trials?

Yes, spectators will be permitted in accordance with state and local capacity restrictions as well as in agreement with USBC management. Spectators must adhere to any state and local mask requirements.

5. Will the 2022 Team USA Trials be livestreamed?

Yes. Our plan is to offer livestreaming of the event on BowlTV.

6. Will the 2022 Team USA Trials champions be the ones who represent the United States at the next QubicaAMF Bowling World Cup?

No. Due to the International Bowling Federation (formally World Bowling) changes in tournament formats, the World Cup no longer is an individual competition. It now is a team event.

7. How many bowlers will make it on Team USA from the Team USA Trials?

The same number of athletes from the 2022 Team USA Trials/U.S. Amateur Championships will make Team USA as in previous years. The number of spots available for Junior Team USA from the 2022 Team USA Trials/U.S. Amateur Championships will also be the same as previous years. See event details for complete information.

8. Will there still be resume picks for Team USA in 2022?

Yes. There will be resume picks for Team USA in 2022.

9. What events will there be for Team USA and Junior Team 2022?

The schedule for Team USA includes training camps, PANAM Zone Championships Qualifier for the IBF World Championship and the IBF World Championship

The schedule for Junior Team USA includes training camps, PANAM Zone Championships Qualifier for IBF Junior World Cup and the IBF Junior World Cup.

All events listed above are subject to change based on postponements from COVID-19 or other circumstances.

10. Can I get a refund if I have registered and choose not to bowl?
